

23. (Amended) A process for treating textile fabric with formaldehyde to enhance at least one property of the fabric comprising:

treating a fabric comprising rayon fibers with a composition comprising

132
10 formaldehyde, and

grafting a silicone elastomer onto said fibers;

wherein the fabric is unresinated, and wherein the fabric exhibits decreased shine due to pressing.